Page 1: you are an expert at diffusing bombs. The SWAT team and the entire military relies on you to diffuse the bombs that they find. One day you find a time bomb that can only be diffused by cracking the code. Do you accept the challenge? If yes go to page 2 if no... goodbye! Page 5?

Page 2: You open the page and the code is in BINARY! You don't remember anything from your computer programming class in middle school, the limit of your knowledge is software vs hardware! Run away? Go to page 4. Solve it? Go to page 3

Page 3: Here is the code. Remember it is a time bomb so you have 1 minute left to solve it! Call your computer friend? Go to page 6.

In the end: either you have run away or you are a hero and have learned how to solve binary code!

MOST IMPORTANT LESSON: There's always something you can learn from others!
